PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Presidents Report September 2020

Nothing much is happening at the moment so at this point in time this is the best I can do

Everything is mostly running well at the Club with the limitations still being as tight as ever. Hopefully we will get some relief in the near future but with the latest Covid Cases at hand it's still a little cloudy.

I asked everyone in the last Newsletter if they have had any ideas about meetings and the A.G.M. and from our total membership we received only ONE reply.

How can anything get easier if you don't want to try and help with ideas. Just remember the Executive is here to help, not hinder as they are Club Members as well. We don't bite. ….. Just give us a go.

Please see any Member of the Executive to discuss any logical ideas bearing in mind the Covid Limitations as if we go outside the regulations and get busted there is a $5,000 fine for the Club plus $1,000 fine for each member in attendance.

There will be a Bunnings Barbeque for the first time in a long while on 15th October lets hope it is prosperous and thank you to everyone who has their name down to help.

I am placing an order to replace the tubes in the Club Lights which will make everything much brighter in the Work area.

The Lathes under the bench near the shop are being donated to the MOGO Men's Shed on the South Coast. Their entire club was destroyed in the Bush Fires earlier this year and it is hoped these lathes will help get them restarted again. My wife and I will be visiting friends in the area soon and will take these down in our trailer.

Please do not complain about the Newsletter as it is not easy to write about things monthly when there is not a lot happening. If you feel you can add something informative then please let David Searle know as he he is having much trouble as myself in trying to fill it up Both He and Fiona Deane are doing a great job under the circumstances

Thanks to all who help and JUST KEEP TURNING.

Question 1. What is in Agra India?

Covid -19 Requirements

To keep our members safe we have to comply with NSW Health directives and state legislation. In order to do this the committee have used documentation provided by both NSW Health and the Men's Shed to prepare a Re-Opening Master Plan. This document details club management and individual responsibilities. A complete copy of the Master Plan is on the club website and will be available at the club. Please understand the various restrictions were not "dreamed up" by the committee. They are what we are required to do to protect the health of members and to ensure the club will pass any inspection by the Police. We do not want to risk members or the club being fined and/or the club being forced to close.

It is important that you read, understand and accept your responsibilities before you decide to attend the club. The maximum number of people allowed in the club at any one time is 15.

GENERAL

- If you are uncomfortable or feel unsafe coming to the Club, then please stay away. You are under no obligation to attend. Remember we are a vulnerable group & you are no less a member for not attending.
- If you have flue like symptoms , then please stay at home & consider getting COVID test
- If you test positive to a COVID test, then please inform a Committee Member as soon as possible.
- Please do everything you can to comply with the guidelines& ,if you see another member not complying remind them politely.
- If a member asks you to do something to comply with these provisions, please try to
- Co-operate.
- There will be no provision of food. Please bring any food you require for your personal consumption.
- Please consider using the Covid Safe App.

ON ARRIVAL

- The only point of entry is via the front (Northcott Road) door. A table has been placed outside the front door with Instructions. Please read and follow them.
- Hand Sanitizer has been placed on the table .Please use before entering.
- Please fill in the daily attendance sheet before you enter. This document is mandatory and is important record that may be required for contact tracing.
- On entering please ensure that the number of people in the main area does not exceed the permitted limit of 15 Persons. If this number is exceeded, then you or someone else must leave immediately.

IN THE CLUB

- Limits have been placed on the maximum number of people allowed in each area. Please comply, because it is an offence to exceed these numbers.
- Please try and & maintain a1.5 metre distance from other people&, where possible, try to limit being close to another person for no longer than 15 minutes.
- If you are closer than 1.5 metres for than 15 minutes, then please consider wearing a mask, gloves or other personal protective equipment.
- When you are in the Club the wearing of a mask is mandatory. No Mask No entry to the Club.

Signage has been placed around the Club establishing limits on the number of people allowed in the various rooms and areas. Please observe these limits & do not enter an area if it would exceed the maximum permitted area

- Please do not hang around the kitchen close to others.
- The furniture has been configured & chairs moved to encourage distance compliance. Please do not move chairs or tables around that would compromise social distancing.
- "Co-Mingling" is not acceptable. Each member should remain at their work position (unless using the amenities). Please do not stand alongside another member whilst he/she is working.

HYGIENE

- Everyone is expected to practice good hygiene& protect against infection& prevent the virus from spreading. Unless we observe these measures the Club will not be able to operate.
- Please sanitize your hands before entering the kitchen.
- Please do try & keep areas such as the kitchen& bathroom clean, tidy & hygienic.
- Tea, Coffee and Sugar will be provided in sachets. Please select what you need carefully.
- Please use your own cup .If you use plates and Cutlery please wash in hot soapy water.
- Please try and avoid coughing over other people, & if you must cough do so into your arm or paper towel.
- Disposable sanitizing wipes have been provided. Please use them to wipe down all tools or equipment before & after you use them.
- Please try& keep the toilet and bathroom sink as clean as possible and sanitize appropriately.

ON LEAVING

- Please fill in the departure time on the daily attendance sheet as you leave. Consider hand sanitizing on departure. Exit is via the Diane Crescent Door.

FINALLY

- Yes, this all a bit of a .pain in the backside, unless we observe these measures, the Club will not be able to operate.

Everyone must practice good hygiene to protect against infection and prevent the virus from spreading. Let's work together and try not to make this too hard. Remember the Club can be inspected at any time it is operating.

IMPORTANT Any breaches of NSW Health Legislation may result in a personal fine for you and the Club. A number of Clubs that were found to be in breach of the requirements have been forcibly closed..

Question 2 : What are Spelunkers?

MAXIMUM NUMBERS OF MEMBERS PERMITTED IN CLUB AREAS

The club areas have been measured & the maximum number of people determined using this method

Area / Room	Floor area in square metres	Max capacity	Signage placement
Kitchen	16.5	3persons	At entrance to main door
Main Area	46.5	10persons	At entrance to area
Office	7	1person	On office door
Bandsaw Room	10.4	2persons	On wall in room
Tool Store	7.7	2persons	On door
Garage - Woodstore	10	2 persons	Inside of left-hand door
Garage – Storeroom	8	1 person	Inside of door
Shop	3	1 person	On door
Under awning	60	10 persons	On woodstore door
Container	24	3persons	On inside of door
		persons

Signage will be posted at the entrance to each area reminding members not to exceed the maximum capacities

Application of 1.5 metre social distancing rule

The NSW government, on its website, states:

This means do not shake hands, or exchange physical greetings, & wherever possible, stay at least 1.5 metres away from others. It's also really important to practice good hygiene, especially after being in public places. Together we can help stop the spread & stay healthy. Visit health.gov.au to learn more.

To ensure compliance directives have been issued to members to:

1. Maintain a distance of 1.5 metres from others where possible.
2. Minimise closer durations to a maximum of 15 minutes.
3. When unable to comply with the above, use PPE such as masks etc.

Signage

Signage will be created & posted as identified in the above table. Templates for the signs to be produced are:

A Super Food or a Super Imagination!!!

During the period the club was closed I decided to do my bit to keep the economy ticking along so I applied for Job Keeper for one of my cub reporters. It took a while but after a tussle with one of Scomo's departments I was successful. Being mindful of the importance of maintaining good health I have this reporter a free hand to see what she could dig up that would be of value to members.

I have to admit that when she returned with the following article and I was somewhat surprised and sceptical. Surprised that is in terms of the claims being made and sceptical in terms of the validity of the claims. I have to admit wondering if the author is a cucumber farmer who is trying to create a market. Regardless it makes for a good read so make your own decisions.

Not sure if the Poms were onto something with their cucumber sandwiches but I have only eaten cucumbers in a salad.

Claimed facts about Cucumbers:

1. Cucumbers contain most of the vitamins you need every day, just one cucumber contains Vitamin B1, B2,B3, B5,B6, Folic Acid, Vitamin C, Calcium, Iron, Magnesium, Phosphorus, Potassium and Zinc. (Do Doctors,health food shops and chemists know this?)
2. Feeling tired in the afternoon?Put down the caffeinated soda and pick up a cucumber. Cucumbers are a good source of B Vitamins and Carbohydrates that can provide a quick pick-me-up that can last for hours.
3. Tired of your bathroom mirror fogging up after a shower? Try rubbing a cucumber slice along the mirror, it will eliminate the fog and provide a soothing, spa-like fragrance.
4. Are grubs and slugs ruining your planting bets? Place a few slices in a small aluminium tin in your garden and your garden will be free of pests all season long. The chemicals in the cucumber react with the aluminium to give off a scent nondetectable to humans but will drive garden pests crazy and make them leave the area.
5. 5. Looking for a fast and easy way to remove cellulite before going out to the pool? Try rubbing a slice or two of cucumber along your problem area for a few minutes, the phytochemicals in the cucumber cause the collagen in you skin to tighten, firming up the outer layer and reducing the visibility of cellulite. Works great on wrinkles too!! (Did not work on my face.)
6. Want to avoid a hangover or terrible headache? Eat a few cumber pieces before going to bed and wake up refreshed and headache free. Cucumbers contain enough sugar, B vitamins and electrolytes to replenish essential nutrients the body lost, keeping everything in equilibrium, avoiding both a hangover and headache!!! (I could have use this in my youth.)
7. Looking to fight off that afternoon or evening snacking binge? Cucumbers have been used for centuries and often used by European trappers, traders and explorers for quick meals to thwart starvation. (Does UNESCO know about this??)
8. Have an important meeting or job interview and you realised that you don't have enough time to polish your shoes? Rub a freshly cut cucumber over the shoe, its chemicals will provide a quick and durable shine that not only looks great but also repels water. (Pity I never kept a cucumber in my office fridge.)

9. Stressed out and don't have time for a massage, facial or visit to the spa? Cut up an entire cucumber andplace it in a boiling pot of water. The chemicals and nutrients from the cucumber will react with the boiling water and will be released in the steam, creating a soothing, relaxing aroma that has been shown to reduce stress in new mothers and college students during final exams. (I skipped motherhood and never made college.)

10. Just finished a business lunch and realize you don't have a toothbrush, gum or mints? Take a slice of cucumber and press it to the roof of your mouth with you tongue for 30 seconds to eliminate bad breath, the phytochemicals will kill the bacteria in your mouth responsible for causing bad breath. (Should have carried one in my pocket.)

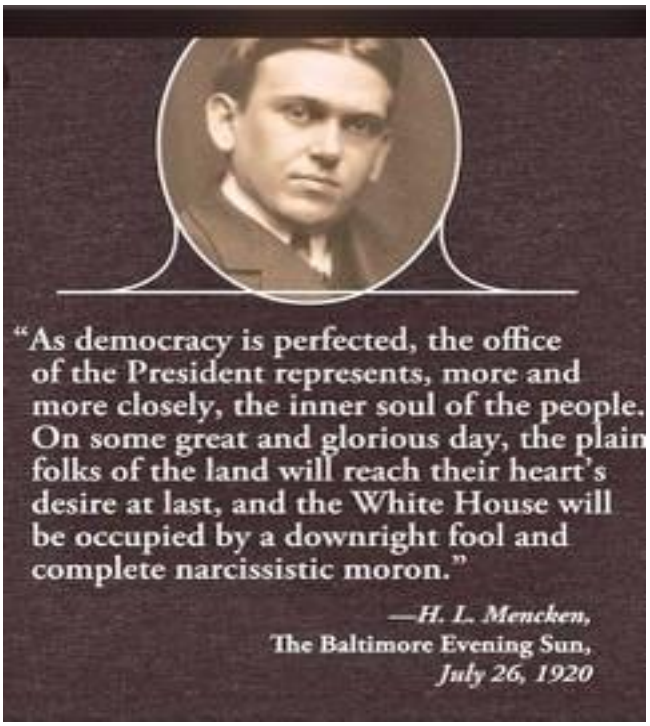

11. Looking for a "green" way to clean your taps, sinks or stainless steel? Take a slice of cucumber and rub it on the surface you want to clean, not only will it remove years of tarnish and bring back the shine, but it won't leave streaks and won't harm your fingers or fingernails while you clean.

12 Using a pen and made a mistake? Take the outside of the cucumber and slowly use it to erase the pen writing, also works great on crayons and markers that the kids have used to decorate the walls!!

13. Out of WD40 and need to fix a squeaky hinge? Take a cucumber slice and rub it along the problem hinge and viola the squeak is gone

That's all folks. Those of you who are Covid 19 restricted and bored might like to test some of these theories and provide feedback to all members via an essay to the Editor.

Bringing Order to your Workshop

Let's face it, how many times have you gone into your workshop, had a look at the bench and thought how the hell can I find anything. On the other hand when rummaging through the clutter you might find things like pencils, half finished projects or lost tools. We are all guilty of this.

Set out below are some thoughts that might be of assistance in bringing some order to the chaos.

1 .Accept the need for change

Have a think and ask yourself would you want someone else to clean this up if something were to happen to you? Are you like many of us who buy replacement tools because you can't find the one you need and you know you have it in the workshop hidden somewhere.

2. Decide what is needed to be kept and what can be tossed out

Have an honest approach to this and ask yourself do i need all this stuff? Have i used this in the last three to five years? If not it goes on the toss out pile.

Next , the same approach can be taken to any old bits of unused timber, broken tools, used abrasives, obsolete equipment. Are we seeing some space appearing here?

Now start cleaning an area so you can start cleaning. Some of the stuff being thrown out could well be sold to second hand places that will give you some extra cash.

3. Bring order to one are area at a time and keep this going

On the market these days there are a lot of organisational systems available such as tiered storage boxes, tool racks etc. Keep all drill bits in one area, sharpen those you need and toss the rest. Keep screws in containers that are easily accessible. Tools in racks are easily found when you need them next.

4. At the end of the day before you leave clean up

When you finish for the day make sure you clean your workshop. By doing this it creates good habits and relieves a lot of the stress caused by not being able to find something. Sweep the floor of shavings etc as this alone makes you workshop more enjoyable to be in not to mention reducing the fire hazard,

5.For everything you bring into your Workshop something goes

Being turners this can be a bit hard as we need gouges of all sizes and descriptions. Same with equipment such as grinders etc, power saws etc. If there is a pile of completed projects lying around such as bowls etc consider donating them or give them away.

6.Put Five things away every time you go into your Workshop

We are all creatures of habit so by adopting the above some degree of order can be established in your workshop thus making it a great place to spend your time.

Have I convinced you yet?

Editor.

Timber Sales

Friday 27th November

"As you are all aware many, if not all, of the shows this year have been cancelled due to Covid19, so many of us have not had a chance to acquire timber for turning, carving, etc., so we have decided to add a day to our craft show, Friday the 27th and we have invited a number of timber sellers to sell on that day only.

We have reached out to

- The guys from Parks that normally attend the Sydney working with wood, they are almost a definite for the day with their burls and banksia nuts, possibly even some gidgee.
- Mal from Boutique Timbers, who is still working out if they can make it down with maybe a load of camphor (and hopefully some of his more exotic timbers)
- We have a local guy that has a slabbing business who currently has a good quantity of Juniper that he says he could slab and cut for turning blanks, and is looking at other timbers he may have
- Alan (Cedar) Smith one of our members looks almost certain to bring in a good quantity of cedar slabs and blanks
- I have a couple of other people that I am still working on that have loads of reclaimed timber that will be there as well.
- We will be selling some camphor, jacaranda, silky oak, banksia, mango, and some odd timbers that we have in abundance at the current time.

I need you to know that we are not charging any of the sellers to attend we are doing it for our, and hopefully your, members to have a chance of grabbing something that they may not have been able to get during these strange time.

Last but certainly not least Mike (from Hardware for Creative Finishes) has also agreed to come down from Dungog with a load of sandpaper, wet and dry, Veneers, brassware, etc., you all know what Mike sells and I am sure have purchased heaps from him in the past. Mike was more than happy when I reached out and asked me to let those that currently deal with him on a regular basis know if they want him to bring anything special down for them they can reach out (give him plenty of notice though) and he will bring it with him on the day.

I am hoping you will support us in this. Should you need more information please contact me direct at corina.buckman@bigpond.com

"Pay Attention, Avoid Distractions!"

- Good tips before commencing your work with power tools.

Now it's time to get moving on your projects. Pay Attention, Avoid Distractions …

How many of your workshops play the sounds of talk-back radio or your favourite songs from the '60's pub scene? They both have a time and place but multi-tasking around machinery that is trying to kill or maim you is not that time or place.

It might even be tempting to set aside your proper PPE ear-plugs and use that set of cheap earphones that came from God-knows-where. Not even the best Sennhauser ear-"stuff" can substitute for properly designed ear protection; their noise cancelling types are an absolute no-no because a safe machine is one you can hear. Sounds from a machine you are used to using, will assure you it is operating normally, not struggling or about to shower you with sparks and red-hot shrapnel

. I wonder how you would respond to repetitive tasks that involve a long sequence of repetitive hand and arm movements?. I think mesmerising will be one answer and no good will come of being mesmerised around power tools. All repetitive tasks demand you take refreshing breaks; else your brain will experience the false sense of security that you can duplicate each movement perfectly, over and over again. You can't.

Finally, have you ever been startled by an interruption; perhaps someone entering your shop un-noticed and unheard. Using power tools is not the time to test your flight or fight reflexes and make an unplanned leap into a moving blade. It's always a good idea to make it known to others likely to need you, they should approach in your line of sight and to wait for you to stop what you are doing.

Safety First Makes you Last … John Freshney Knox woodies.
